

PACKARD 'TWIN-SIX' FOR 1917 IS HERE AND WINS MUCH ADMIRATION

Von Hamm-Young Co. Showing New Car to Countless Auto Enthusiasts

Arriving on the Matson liner Manoa the latest model "Twin-Six" Packard made its debut in the Hawaiian Islands and is now on display at the salesrooms of the von Hamm-Young Co., where it is being admired by many automobile enthusiasts every day.

The new Twin-Six does not appear to have changed much in outward appearance, but it is noticeably a little lower to the ground and even more richly upholstered, the body-lines tending more to the stream-line effect.

But in the mechanical end there have been several changes which appear to be much for the better in the way of making for efficiency, economy of operation and accessibility.
The most important change in the mechanical part is the adoption of the removable cylinder head idea, which the most successful motor manufacturers are now adopting. With this new design in automobile motors much work will be eliminated for the repair man who may have to clean cylinders, grind valves and pistons, as this can now be done without removing the cylinders or disturbing anything else.

Certainly an exhaustive study of the comforts of the passengers and driver has been made and put to good advantage on this new Twin-Six, as the seats are all wide and roomy and the upholstery throughout is of the new ribbed sewing instead of the old-fashioned tufted and button leather, and the new contours and angles of the lazy backs make even more restful riding.

Disappearing seats in the tonneau also make room and give a neater appearance than the former side folding seats. The car being hung lower, makes it much easier of ingress and egress.

This 1917 Twin-Six, which is the von Hamm-Young Company's first new model demonstrator, is being followed by a large order placed with the Packard Company when it first announced the new model, and it is expected to arrive at an early date.

MINE MANAGER ROUTES HOLD-UP GANG; ONE DEAD

Grabs Gun From Bandit and Shoots Leader; Poses
Chase Bad Men

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo., Oct.
7.—An attempt to seize R. M. Perry, manager of the coal mining company operating here, in order that he might be held for a $15,000 ransom, was frustrated last night by the intended victim himself.

The gang held up Perry, the leader shoving a gun in his face and ordering him to write a note stating that he had been captured by a number of bold men who would kill him if the sum of $15,000 were not immediately forthcoming. Perry began as if to write the note demanded, but suddenly sprang upon the holdup leader, wrenched the revolver from his hand and shot him down. The bullet pierced the bandit's brain and he fell in his tracks.

With the gun Perry then threatened the other members of the gang, who scattered. The mine manager then hastened to his office, spread the alarm and organized a posse, which he led himself on the trail of the escaping holdup men.

Reports late last night were to the effect that the capture of the whole gang is expected at any time.

NEW YORK MILK DEALERS SETTLE WITH DAIRYMEN

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Virtually all the wholesale milk concerns of Greater New York have agreed to meet the demands of the dairymen's league and the delivery of milk in the city has been resumed on practically the old supply basis. The wholesalers and the dairymen have entered into six months contracts under certain conditions that are thought to be mutually beneficial. All other purchasing agencies are expected to make similar contracts at once.

U. S. LAUNCH HAS FIGHT WITH SWORDFISH

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline) GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 7.—Barely escaping the wreck of their boat, the crew of the United States engineering launch Nucoos had an exciting battle with a giant swordfish yesterday. The fish attacked the launch and rammed it below the waterline, but was shot before it had a chance to complete its evident intention of sinking the craft.

What healthy Nerves Mean to You

A strong, vigorous nervous system means health, strength and ability to endure hardship and also to enjoy the full pleasures of life.

The man with healthy nerves accomplishes greater tasks with less fatigue.
He has a clear eye, an active brain and a sound body. He is enabled to think better and work faster. He has energy. With healthy nerves he can overcome the hardest competition, be successful and gain wealth.

The woman with healthy nerves is never listless, weak or hopeless; she is not irritable, she never suffers from hysteria, she has a reserved surplus of endurance. Healthy nerves will prevent the sleepless mother, although worn with care and nursing, from a "break down" caused by her double or treble duty.

All men and women who suffer from these forms of nervousness—known as Neurasthenia—who have "gone to pieces," who lack energy, who have insomnia, who have succumbed to nervous prostration or nervous exhaustion, either mental or physical, whose condition is one of irritable weakness, will find ready relief and cure in the peculiar properties of

WILSON HAS NO HINT OF GERARD'S SPECIAL MISSION

CRESTLINE, Ohio, Oct. 7.—The president has received numerous congratulations over his choice of Gen.
Goethals, Edgar E. Clark and George Rubees as members of the special commission to observe the workings of the Adamson act with a view to making recommendations to equalize the effect of that legislation upon the railroads of the country.

Numerous telegraphic inquiries from the newspapers were received by the president during the afternoon and evening each publication asking for some confirmation of the report of the New York Post that Ambassador Gerard is en route to the United States as a peace emissary acting for Germany. To these telegrams the president gave out a general statement denying that he had any knowledge of any special mission upon which Ambassador Gerard may be continuing.
